SCOURING COUNTRY FOR BRUTE WHO MURDERED CHILD IN CAR.

Mt. Pleasant Scene of Sickening Tragedy of Little Girl Ravished and Killed on Way to Church.

COUNTY OFFERS $1,000 REWARD

Feeling High Among Foreign Residents Over Brutal Slaughter of Volusia Sluochek, Ten Years Old. Possess Assist Police—Arrests Made.

MT PLEASANT, June 9.—With excitement at a high pitch among the foreign residents of this place with bloodhounds the State police and posse scouring the country no stone is being left unturned to locate the murderer of little Volusia Sluochek, who was found partially covered with blood in a railroad car yesterday near this place after she had been ravished. Upon the white neck of the child still remain the livid finger marks where she was choked to death by her assailant. That every effort is being made to apprehend the culprit is shown by the activity of the officers and the people. Westernland county officials have lost no time in offering a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the man who committed the deed.

The victim of the assault, who was her parents at home No. 237, near the Standard shaft. Yesterday morning she left her home to go to church. When she had not returned at noon her parents became alarmed and a search was instituted. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon a colored lad named Charles Williams, a foreign boy, noticed a handcar passing as they were passing a freight car and making an investigation they found the body of the child, partially covered with blood where she had been left by the man after she was murdered.

The authorities were at once notified and the body removed to Zimmerman's morgue and a search was started for the murderer. Posses were quickly formed and scoured the country in all directions. The State Police were notified and no time was lost in the chase with blood hounds and the whole country is searching for the murderer.

Williams, the negro who discovered the body was arrested upon suspicion and as he tells a different story each time he is being interrogated an investigation of the matter. The feeling among the foreign residents is at a high pitch and it was with difficulty they were prevented from wrecking their wrath upon the colored lad arrested.

The crime was probably committed about 9:30 o'clock. It was evident that the child had been probably lying in wait in one of the cars upon the siding, and that when Volusia Sluochek, dressed in her pretty Sunday clothing came along all alone, she rushed out, grabbed the girl and forced her into the car. There was evidence of a struggle, but the brute was of such strength that the child's efforts to free herself were of no avail.

Upon the throat of the little victim there were the prints of a large man's fingers, standing out in several places. The little white throat and there was every evidence that the fellow had choked her to death to accomplish his vile purpose.

Effort to Conceal Crime.
In an effort to hide the crime for a time the dead had been placed in the particles of coke which the child had been loaded before and placed this about the body, initially concealing it from the casual glance of anyone passing the open car door. Presumably the dead man has a escape immediately after the crime had been committed.

In the car there had been left upon the floor a clue upon which the officers can work, namely, a small piece of lining from a man's coat which looks as though it might have been torn out in the struggles of the infant victim.

Abel Rhombusburg was arrested this morning at Broad Ford as a suspicious character in connection with the Mt. Pleasant tragedy. He was picked up by Constable Jerke as answering the description while waiting at the police station. He said that he was not at all scared over his arrest as he had spent all day Saturday in Dawson and was there until noon Sunday. He said that his home was originally at Juniataville. He knew the Rhombusburgs at Mt. Pleasant but that he was not a relative of the family. He is a small man with a sandy mustache and does not seem to be overly intelligent. Chief of Police T. O. Keller arrived here from Mt. Pleasant at noon and ordered his release. The Mt. Pleasant officials appear to have strong evidence against the man for whom they are searching for the release of Rhombusburg was ordered as soon as the officers saw him.

NEGRO CHARGED WITH MURDER RETURNED.
Sheriff Johns Gets Man Who Threatened Woman From Bridge Into Yough River.

UNIONTOWN, June 9.—Sheriff Peter A. Johns arrived home Saturday evening from Covington, Va. where he was to bring James Leitch, charged with the murder of Elizabeth Callaway. The officers have been seeking of Leitch since last fall.

The night following the Yough river bridge celebration on October 1, it was found that the negro made an attempt to throw a bomb from the bridge. The woman died from a rupture two weeks later in the Catholic State hospital. Connellsville District Attorney will arrange for a hearing some time this week.

James committed the crime it will be a difficult matter to prevent a lynch law.

MT PLEASANT, June 9.—During the entire day yesterday hundreds of excited people crowded the streets around the borough house where Charles Williams, the 19-year-old colored suspect of the murder of Volusia Sluochek, was confined pending a more thorough investigation. Sheriff Shields, County Detective Rul and District Attorney Wehrman were in town here today and on evidence furnished by the local officers they decided to hold Williams.

Williams in company with a foreign lad reported the discovery of the body to the authorities but what he was examined by Sheriff Shields and other authorities he told conflicting stories and was unable to account for his whereabouts between the hours of 9 and 10 the time the brutal attack was supposed to have occurred.

He was to have been given a hearing this evening at this place but on account of the excited condition of the mob which was becoming fiercer and more dangerous, as the foreign lad was coming to town from work in the mines Sheriff Shields decided it would be a good plan to let the mob out of town as soon as possible for the people's wrath would be the better of them and they should demand the suspect to be turned over to them and accordingly he was put in the car and taken to the Greensburg jail. The hearing was postponed until next Monday afternoon at 10 o'clock if it is possible.

When Sheriff Shields is ordered to turn over the body to the county prisoners a mob of over 500 excited foreigners gathered around the car and they were all of the same feeling. Half one of their number made a break for the prisoner he would not doubt have been killed on the spot.

One of the most pitiable incidents in connection with the arrest of Williams is the fact that his father who resides just north of town is being at the point of death he being a consumptive.

The officers are still out and all suspicious characters will be arrested in an endeavor to run down the girl's slayer.

The evidence against Williams is becoming stronger and he is expected to break down at any moment and make a complete confession.

The local policemen were glad to have him taken off their hands as the people were becoming more dangerous as the evidence was being brought in by the authorities.

FOUND DEAD ALONG TROLLEY TRACKS.

John E. Anderson, Formerly of Scottsdale Believed to Have Been Murdered Saturday Night.

UNIONTOWN, June 9.—John E. Anderson, formerly of Scottsdale, Pa., was found dead along the tracks of the West Penn Railway Company at Broad Ford yesterday morning. John P. Reed, Coroner of Broad Ford, was notified and he sent word to the county authorities. Sheriff Peter A. Johns County Detective Alex. Mellichamp and Constable Milt Mott went to Broad Ford to investigate the death of Anderson but while there he believed that the man was murdered there is no clue to his assailant. Several foreigners saw Anderson walking along the car tracks about 10 o'clock on Saturday evening and state that he was intoxicated at the time.

The ground about where the body was found gave evidence however of a fight having occurred. There was an ugly wound on the back of Anderson's head and a bullet hole in his body. The clothes were found lying on the ground and the bullet fell on the floor. Deceased was the son of the late William Anderson of Scottsdale.

of a great deal of indignation on the part of the public. The only person who was not present at the trial was the defendant, who was absent on account of illness. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and the court sentenced him to the penitentiary for five years. The defendant was taken to the prison on the same day. The trial was held in the city of New York, and the judge presiding was Judge Sutherland.

FUEL GAS FROM POOR COAL.

Low-Grade Coal Now Being Left in Mines Will Soon Be Utilized for Steaming and Heating Purposes.
Coking Coals.

The startling facts recently detailed at the White House conference with the Governors of the States concerning the tremendous wastes in the use of the natural resources of the country and the dire predictions of their early exhaustion have not only been realized for a number of years by the government experts, but a systematic effort has been going on to stop these drains on the future prosperity of the country.

In its endeavors to check the great waste of the natural resources, the Geological Survey a few years ago extended its field by taking up the subject of the utilization of the fuels of the country, and so fruitful have been these investigations that there is every promise of the saving of millions of dollars within a short period. These investigations appeal directly to the manufacturer, the business man and the consumer, for they show him how to realize immediate economies he never dreamed of before.

Authorized to test the fuels owned by or for the use of the government, the Survey has made a number of discoveries of the greatest importance to the entire people. At the government's fuel testing plant it has been shown that the gas engine is capable of generating from two and a half to three times as much power, using a given amount of coal, as can be obtained from a steam engine. This means, it is declared, that a 600-horse power gas engine will save $5,000 a year in its coal bill over the same power steam engine, and that the saving on a 6,000-horse power gas engine ought to amount to $75,000 a year.

In testing the efficiency of coals under the boiler of a steam engine the survey engineers suggest still another way to save the fuel. Recent experiments indicate that boilers ought to perform two or three times the work they do now. In New York City a certain large corporation has almost doubled the capacity of its power plant by placing furnaces in the rear of its boilers as well as the front. This was done at a saving of several hundred thousand dollars, as it would have been necessary to purchase additional land held at a high figure to carry on the work.

The tests of different coals under the steam boiler at the government plant have also showed the possibility of increasing the general efficiency of hand-fired boilers 10 to 15 per cent over ordinary commercial results.

The survey is also engaged in a general analysis of the coals of the country. These analyses have resulted in the government purchasing coal on definite specifications, based upon its heating value. Under this system a better grade of coal and coal better adapted to the types of furnaces in the government buildings has been obtained without any increase in cost, which in itself is a saving to the government. These investigations, by suggesting changes in equipment and methods are also indicating the practicability of the government's purchasing cheaper fuels, such as bituminous coal and the smaller sizes of anthracite, instead of the more expensive sizes. With new boilers in the heating plant of the state, war and navy buildings in Washington, $15,000 is now being saved each year in the coal bill for this building alone. Many power plants are now buying on specifications and have obtained increased efficiency as a result of the government's investigations.

The government has found still another way of conserving the fuel resources in the briquetting of coal. The investigations show that in the future the great quantities of waste coal seen about every mine and the low-grade coal that is now being left in the mines, will be utilized in the generating of power and for locomotive power and domestic heating. Successful tests of briquets were recently made on two railroads. The briquets, which were made from the slack of high grade bituminous coal, showed an economy of 29 per cent over the same lump coal, not taking into consideration the cost of making the briquets.

At the government fuel testing plant at Denver, Col., investigations into the washing and coking of coal have been carried on for a year with much success. In the washery plant it has been shown that coals were greatly improved by washing at the nominal cost of from three to ten cents a ton. In recent experiments, the experts have succeeded in making coke out of several coals that have been regarded as non-coking. Of 37 samples tested from the Rocky mountain region, all but three produced good coke, though a number of these were considered non-coking coals.

The gas engine has also opened the way for the use of millions of tons of low-grade fuel, much of which has heretofore been thrown away as useless. The tests have shown that coals that are practically valueless under steam boilers because of their high percentage of impurities, have generated sufficient power in the gas engine to render them of high commercial value. Coals as high in ash as 45 per cent have been used successfully in the gas engine.

In the West, where the supply of high grade fuel coal is inadequate, the low grade lignites (the poorest form of coal) of North Dakota, developed as much power when converted into producer gas as all the best West Virginia bituminous coals when used under the boiler of a steam engine.

To the West this discovery of the government scientists is of the utmost importance. It makes possible the introduction of cheap power and therefore the establishment of an industrial empire of immense proportions. There are many million acres of lignites in the West, an almost inexhaustible supply of the fuel that has so far been practically useless, the people being compelled to send a great distance for their coal and pay big freight charges on what they did use.

In the average steam engine today but 5 per cent of the coal energy is transformed into work. In the gas engine this percentage of efficiency is 12 1/2 per cent. The coal used in generating power in the United States last year amounted to about 200,000,000 tons. With the universal use of the gas engine, it is estimated that at least 100,000,000 tons of this coal could be saved.

SOMERSET, June 4.—The following named persons have been recently assigned quarters in Sheriff Begley's hotel:

Winston Mostoller, laborer, married, of Somerset township, committed on a charge of larceny by Justice J. P. Welmer. Mostoller subsequently entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail and a fine of $20 and costs.

August Zimmerman of Black township, committed by Justice H. N. P. Baker of Rockwood on a charge of robbery.

Frank Crow, committed by Justice Groff of Confluence, on a charge of assault and battery. Crow pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs and serve ten days in jail.

Joe Pate, a Hungarian miner of Windber, was committed on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill by Justice Robert Colborn.

André Szivinsky, a Russian miner of Windber, was committed on a charge of assault and battery and for making threats by Justice M. E. Sell of Windber.

William Kilky, a plumber, was committed by Justice J. J. Cook of Northampton township on a charge of larceny.

Paul Tavok, a Hungarian miner, of Macdonald, was committed by the court on a charge of aggravated assault and battery.

Michael Lollins, a Russian miner, was committed on a charge of larceny by Justice W. W. Knaible of Somerset. This charge was withdrawn.

John Bosak of Windber, a Russian miner, was committed on a charge of larceny by Justice Robert Colborn.

REFUSED TO ANSWER COURT; LOCKED UP.

Witness Found He Could Not Trifle.
Decisions Rendered in Other Cases.

UNIONTOWN, June 5.—Mike Hord, a witness, found that it was bad policy to monkey with the court, and as a result of it he spent a part of yesterday and last night in the jail. Mike was called to give testimony in the case of Mike Hord, a Poley street dealer, who charged Louis Poley with illegal liquor selling. After being called to the stand he refused to answer the questions put to him by the interpreter because he didn't like the interpreter. Judge Van Swearingen ordered him locked up for contempt of court.

This morning he changed his mind and the case was heard, resulting in the acquittal of Poley. It developed that the prosecutor had been a clerk for him and he brought the action through malice. He alleged that Poley sold intoxicants in cups.

James Perros was acquitted by a jury on instruction of the court of a charge of forgery brought by C. Dommoneros. The case arose over a Pennsylvania pay check and the attorneys for the prosecution admitted that they had failed to prove that the check had been signed with intent to defraud.

Anthony Lawrence was directed to pay his wife, Tekla Lawrence, $2 per week on a non-support charge. The wife's story was a most touching one. Emma and Harriet Gordon entered a plea of guilty to robbing the summer home of J. D. Sorg at the Summit and were sentenced to pay the costs and spend 60 days in jail. William Gordon, their father, also accused, will stand trial.

New Books Received.
Among the new books which will be ready for circulation at the Carnegie Free Library Saturday morning are "Mr. Crewe's Career," by Winston Churchill; "Rose McLeod," by Alice Brown and "The Prima Donna," by Marion Crawford.
